Pilbara Artists receive boost for vital upskilling

The Pilbara Public Artist Development Program (PPADP) is a capacity building program for Pilbara artists to empower and upskill participants through a series of presentations/workshops, and skills development sessions funded by the Local Buying Foundation.

Attendees will learn how to respond to public art expressions of interests and deliver large scale, complex projects that reflect local community, culture and landscape.

Anticipated project benefits include improved skill set to earn a sustainable income; opportunity for local government authorities/businesses/other agencies to engage professional Pilbara public artists; elevate the local arts scene by creating opportunities for community projects, murals, collective artworks and art workshops; and boost confidence for a sector that has been severely impacted by COVID-19.
